

Judge Advocate General of the Navy

19 July 2004

Please join us in congratulating Captain James F. Duffy, JAGC, U.S. Navy, on his selection to become Director, Operations and Management (Code 06), and ultimately, the Assistant Judge Advocate General of the Navy.

Captain Duffy serves currently as Commanding Officer, Trial Service Office Northeast. His most recent assignments include Special Counsel to the Chief of Naval Operations; Force Judge Advocate to Commander, Naval Forces Europe; Deputy Assistant Judge Advocate General (Administrative Law), and Staff Judge Advocate to Commander, SEVENTH Fleet.

The Director, Operations and Management (Code 06), (a.k.a. the AJAG (Operations and Management)), fills a critical position within the senior leadership of the Navy legal community and is directly responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Navy JAG Corps. Captain Duffy will also serve as Vice Commander, Naval Legal Service Command.

We are indeed fortunate as a community to have the benefit of Captain Duffy's talents and experience to fill this important position in the Navy JAG Corps.
